1. You must have a valid Cycling BC License or International UCI Racing License to ride at Burnaby Velodrome. The only exception is for supervised clinics (such as the Learn to Ride program.)
2. You must be a member in good standing of the Burnaby Velodrome Club OR have a valid Cycling BC Racing License OR have an International UCI Racing License before you can participate in any BVC Race Events.
3. You must read and sign the BVC Track Etiquette and Code of Conduct (see over) before using the track.
4. You must read and sign the Release, Waiver and Indemnity before using the track.
5. A responsible adult (parent or guardian) must sign the above documents for anyone under the age of nineteen (19).
6. Out of province riders must sign the waiver to verify that they have valid and adequate medical insurance.

Burnaby Velodrome Track Etiquette and Code of Conduct

1. The Burnaby Velodrome is banked more steeply than most other tracks in North America. When riding, you will need to maintain a speed of at least 30 km/h to avoid slipping and falling in the corners. Use the Cote d'Azur to enter and exit the track and always shoulder check before entering and exiting the track. This area is not for warming up on. General rule of thumb is always pass over riders. Do not overlap wheels with the rider in front of you. No one is to cross the track via foot while riding is taking place.
2. Generally the sprinters lane or pole lane is for faster paced workouts or teaching new rider clinics and the blue line is for warming up on.
3. Do not ride continuously around the Cote d'Azur as a cool down. This is for entering and exiting the track. It makes it difficult and dangerous for riders doing speed work in the pole lane, especially in the corners. Use the warm up lane below the Cote d'Azur.
4. The blue line or stayers line is for warming up and cooling down or going steady hard but always in a pace line. This is not an area to ride two or three abreast to have a conversation. That is what the infield is used for.
5. Do not just join BVC workouts or warm ups in progress without politely asking the BVC representative/coach in charge first. Reminder to pay attention to structured sessions of any kind and either hang well back (minimum 4-5 bike lengths) and get informed before you join. This is a safety issue when riders jump into workouts not understanding what drill is going on.
6. When a clinic or LTR is on, pay attention to what's going on and watch for riders entering/exiting the track in groups. Ability to do fast/specific efforts during clinics will be compromised and instructor and BVC coach have final say.
7. Do not ride between the red and blue lines, your intentions are not clear to others. This lane is for transitioning to/from the pole lane and blue, not for hanging out in.
8. Make sure your bike is in excellent working order and the all parts that need to be tightened down are. Tubular tires if used must be properly glued on and no brakes are allowed on track bikes. Bikes must have proper horizontal drop outs with axle and nut fasteners. No quick releases on rear wheels and only on front when taped down for individual efforts/timed events on track. No ipods/mp3/music players with earbuds or headphones allowed on track at any time.
10. Keep the infield clean and tidy. Clean up after yourself and put all garbage in containers. Clean up any messes you make. Place chairs, bike racks off volleyball courts when you leave.

11. Treat BVC volunteers and officials with respect and consideration. These people are certified and well-trained. They give up their free time to make sure that the velodrome training sessions and races are safe and well-run. Swearing at, arguing with, or distracting them from their responsibilities is bad form at best, and at worst, may put other riders in danger. Depending on the nature of this type of offence committed, a rider may be punished by having his/her membership/license suspended, revoked, or the rider could refused service at the facility. The Club's volunteers and officials work hard to make riding and racing consistent and safe; your respect is the least they deserve.

11. Treat the other riders with respect and consideration. Racing is intense, competition is intense, and even training can be intense. However, all members benefit if the prevailing mood at the track is one of friendly competition. Treating others with common courtesy allows for an atmosphere within which members can approach others for help with equipment problems, to borrow/loan tools, and to discuss techniques and strategy. Verbal or physical intimidation may put other riders in danger. Depending on the nature of this type of offence committed, a rider may be punished by having his/her membership/license suspended, revoked, or the rider could refused service at the facility. This Club needs to grow and develop. Do your part to assist in that process by respecting your fellow members.
